EAST LAS VEGAS, N. M., Oct. 23 .erque, N. M., in characterizing Secreof Washington's army with the bandits we get to Syracuse and we will show you of Villa and Carranza. He said that Mr. something." Baker, in advising persons who couldn't understand the President's Mexican policy, "adds an element of nauseous hy-about men of the revolution."

The Colonel, under a blazing sun, talked to 2,000 New Mexicans, tourists and health seekers who stood on a laws beside the Alvarado Hotel. He was applauded much and interrupted only twice. Both interruptions came from a railroad fireman shouting, "Hurrah for Wilson."

The first time the Colonel went right on. When the fireman raised his voice again the Colonel replied, "Yes, hurrah for Wilson." That's the boy, swat him, Teddy." yelled a native whose sombrero served as a parasol for several women.

"Hurrah for Wilson, Villa and Carranza and the murdered Americans in Mexico." Col. Roosevelt resumed.

"Whe-e-e; eat 'em up, Teddy!" from the sombrero.

The Wilson shouter was swamped by laughter and cries of "Keep it up. Teddy."

Silences the Heckler.

"How do you like it. Wilson man?"
piped the Colonel. "If you want to hurrah, I'll give you something to hurrah about." But the speech flowed on without further comment.
The stop at Albuquerque was not originally scheduled as one of the main events of the trip, but ten Rough Riders were on hand, and wherever there are Rough Riders there is action. Senator Fall and other Republican leaders greeted the Colonel there was an automobile parade, headed by mounted cowboys, only one of whom, i is regret-fully stated, wore a red shirt. In front of the Colonel's car cavorted two of the slickest horses in New Mexico, appro-priated by Miss Theima Dorothea Lou-don and Miss Naomie Ruth Loudon, daughters of a rancher. Dorothea cut her classes at the University of New Mexico to help greet the Colonel. On the speakers' stand Senator Fall introduced the Colonel as a peaceful but resolute man who had kept the peace as President and had helped to end the war between Russia and Japan. Colonel Roosevelt's first big cheer was started when he said, in telling how he would have acted toward Mexico if he were President.

"I would have sent Pershing in without hobbles," he said. "I would say, 'All bandits look alike to me,' If President Wilson had acted as he ought to have acted there would be real peace in

"President Wilson's positions and ac-tions have been entirely justifiable from the standpoint of those who justify the positions and actions of President Budefend the conduct of President Wilson save by inferentially condemning the ington, Jackson and Lincoln.
"If President Wilson's behavior tow-erd Germany and especially toward Mexico, if his attitudes in both our in-ternational and internal affairs are proper, then Washington, Jackson and Lincoln acted improperly in upholding and saving the Union and defending and saving the Union and detending our position against foreign nations by their readiness and ability to use force. If their attitude toward the army and navy was right then the attitude of Mr. Wilson in appointing and maintaining Mr. Daniels as Secretary of the Navy

Wilson in appointing and maintaining Mr. Daniels as Secretary of the Navy and Mr. Baker as Secretary of the Navy and Mr. Baker as Secretary of War is wholly indefensible.

"Mr. Baker is an amiable pacifist, who, I do not doubt, could render respectable service along other lines, but he is exquisitely unfit for his present position.

"Mr. Baker has been cagayed recently on several occasions in the defence of Mr. Wilson. His effort is to defend Mr. Wilson's attitude toward Carrange and the Mexican bandits generally by alleging that Washington and his soldiers stood on substantially the same level. He is by no means as attitute as Mr. Wilson, but he is more aimere and straightforward.

"He certainly understands nothing of efficiency ir. war, and it is now apparent that he regards all wars as standing on the same level of infamy and all soldiers as equally disreputable. Among his recent exploits was an elaborate comparison of Washington and his followers and soldiers in the defected by the amalgamation of his bad health.

Mr. Whitman also showed the saving the present denoted in the department of the present witches' Sabbath in Mexico.

At the luncheon with Senator Fall, ex-Gov. Curry and 100 other Republicans after the meeting, Col. Roosevelt said that while China was struggling to move out of her position of humble submission in international affairs "President Wilin international affairs "President Wilson is trying to move us back to China's place." China he said, did get some indemnity for her nationals killed in Mexico, "so some Chinese must have shown more nerve than Mr. Wilson has."
The tunchese ended with a lot of men standing on chairs cheering for the Colonel. At least three of them also shouted, "Here's to Teddy for President in 1920," but of course he didn't notice that.

The Rough Riders who pounced on their chief were George Curry, the former Governor; Major W. H. H. Liewellyn, D. J. Leahy and Robert H. M. Leahy, who had accompanied Col. Roosevelt from Prescott on the westbound trip; H. Sherman, Heye L. Albers, Roy V. Clark, Frank Quier, Frank Hill and Harry Reed.

Senator Fall said that New Mexico is and for Hughes.
